Activity: Postcards

On #RedWednesday you can send a postcard to a...

. Christian person who may be suffering...

On #RedWednesday,
we want to send the message

that religious persecution is unacceptable
in our world.

In addition to sending a message to others around us, we invite you to send a message of hope to a Christian person who may be suffering in one of many countries around the world.

Take a minute to imagine what kind of message you would like to hear, if you were in a situation like some of the people we have heard about.

Choose one of the postcards and write out your message on the back. You could even draw something on the back to show that you are thinking about and praying for them.

You can also decide if you would like to sign your name or not.

Always use positive
language!

Four horizontal dashed lines for writing, located on the right side of the page.

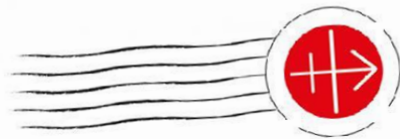

If you choose the blank postcard, you can create your own design for the front cover.

Again, think about what someone might want to see and portray something positive and uplifting.

To: Someone just like me who lives in a place where people cannot live out their faith without fear of intolerance, discrimination or persecution.
